The Voice Behind The Vision: ★★

At NLK Vidya Mandir Inter College, our students continue to inspire us by striking a remarkable balance between academic excellence and a growing passion for reading. Embracing the theme "The Literary Lens", they have beautifully demonstrated how reading broadens perspectives, deepens understanding, sharpens critical thinking, and builds confidence-qualities that are clearly reflected in their academic achievements. Their success is not merely measured by marks and grades, but stands as a testament to their disciplined study habits, curiosity for knowledge, and the enriching influence of books. Reading has empowered them to explore new ideas, strengthen language skills, and develop a more thoughtful and analytical approach to learning. As our students turn pages, they also unlock possibilities, transform aspirations into accomplishments, and pave the way for a brighter future. We take immense pride in nurturing young minds who not only excel academically but also grow into informed, reflective, and future-ready individuals, equipped to contribute meaningfully to the society.

– Mr. Gyan Singh, Principal

From The Vice Principal's Desk: ★★

Books have always been more than just collections of pages; they are windows to ideas, cultures, emotions, and endless possibilities. At NLK Vidya Mandir Inter College, we believe that reading is not merely a habit but a transformative journey that shapes young minds into thoughtful, informed, and empathetic individuals. With this belief, our theme "The Literary Lens" celebrates the power of literature in broadening perspectives and enriching lives. Through stories, poems, biographies, and thought-provoking texts, students are encouraged to look at the world with curiosity and imagination while developing critical thinking and effective communication skills. Literature allows learners to step into different worlds, understand diverse viewpoints, and reflect deeply on their own experiences. This edition of the newsletter reflects our students' thoughtful engagement with books through insightful book reviews, showcasing their ability to analyze, interpret, and express ideas effectively. It also highlights the English Department's dedicated efforts to nurture reading habits, language skills, and literary appreciation among learners. Through such initiatives, we continue to inspire students to explore the world through the lens of literature. As educators, we aim to create an environment where books are cherished as companions in growth and discovery. We remain committed to fostering a culture in which every learner can explore, question, imagine, and evolve through the magic of words. I extend my heartfelt appreciation to our students, teachers, and parents for supporting this vision and making learning a truly enriching experience. May this literary journey continue to inspire us all to read, reflect, and rise!!

Words of Achievement: ★★

Getting the top score this year means a lot to me. However, what really mattered was how I approached learning. I wasn't just cramming to get through chapters; I wanted to really understand what I was reading. Sticking to a regular reading routine helped me sharpen my thinking and made it easier to write my answers.

Surely, I had days when staying consistent felt like a struggle, but those little daily efforts started to add up.

Eventually, studying didn't feel like a chore anymore; it became genuinely interesting. I've realized that when you truly understand what you're learning, the good grades take care of themselves.

Reading That Transforms: ★★

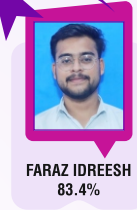

Books are more than a source of knowledge; they are a powerful literary lens through which we view the world. Reading allows us to step into different lives, cultures, and ideas, expanding our understanding beyond our own experiences. It strengthens imagination, sharpens thinking, and builds empathy by helping us feel what others feel.

In an age of distractions, books offer depth, focus, and quiet reflection. They shape our thoughts, values, and creativity in lasting ways. The power of reading lies not just in gaining information but in transforming how we see, think, and connect with the world around us.

Voices of Literature: ★★

"A book is a dream that we hold in our hands, and every reader becomes a traveller of countless worlds."

We, as educators in our school, believe that reading is far more than a classroom habit; it is the quiet beginning of independent thought. In a world overflowing with quick information, books teach students the rare ability to pause, reflect, and imagine deeply. A reader learns to question ideas, understand emotions, and see beyond appearances. Every story opens a new perspective, every poem sharpens sensitivity, and every page builds confidence silently. Through reading, young minds do not simply gather knowledge, they discover identity, creativity, and voice. For us, nurturing readers means nurturing thinkers who will one day shape the world with wisdom and understanding.

Earth Through Our Lens: ★★

Earth Day reminds us that our planet is the only home we have. NLKVM Inter College marked Earth Day with fresh energy and genuine care for the environment. Students filled the classroom with colour, hope, and creative ideas. They created vibrant posters that highlighted the detrimental effects of pollution and climate change on our world. Students worked hard in a special planting event in the class. Each seed bomb placed in the soil was a small but vital gift to the planet. The strong message was clear, "Stop plastic, pick green habits, and protect Mother Earth every single day."

Echoes of a Mother's Care: ★★

To celebrate the spirit of Mother's Day, students of NLKVMIC enthusiastically participated in a heartfelt card-making activity dedicated to their mothers. With vibrant colours, creative designs, and emotional messages, students expressed their gratitude and love for the unconditional care and support of their mothers. The activity encouraged creativity, emotional expression, and appreciation for family values. Each handmade card carried a personal touch, making the celebration truly meaningful and memorable. Through this thoughtful initiative, students learned the importance of expressing love and thankfulness towards the most important women in their lives—their mothers, who inspire, nurture, and guide them every day.

Conducted regularly on diverse themes, they provide a platform for students to express their thoughts through speeches, presentations, skits, poems, and awareness activities. These gatherings encourage teamwork, leadership, and effective communication while instilling moral values and social responsibility. From celebrating important occasions to spreading awareness about environmental and social issues, assemblies create meaningful learning experiences beyond textbooks. They set a positive tone for the day and contribute significantly to the holistic development of students, nurturing them into responsible and confident individuals.

Parent's Testimonial: ★★

As a parent, I sincerely appreciate the school's dedicated efforts in nurturing not only academic excellence but also a deep appreciation for literature and reading among students. In today's fast-paced digital world, encouraging children to develop a reading habit is truly invaluable. Through initiatives such as book reviews, literary activities, storytelling sessions, and discussions, the school is helping students enhance their vocabulary, creativity, critical thinking, and confidence in self-expression. 'The Literary Lens' beautifully reflects this vision by showcasing how literature can inspire young minds, broaden perspectives, and contribute to the holistic development of every child. It is truly encouraging to see the school shaping learners who are not just knowledgeable but also thoughtful, imaginative, and articulate individuals.

Between the Pages: ★★

When Freedom Turns into Fear...

Imagine a world where suddenly all adults disappear. No rules, no control—just freedom. But that freedom doesn't last long. The Gone Series by Michael Grant, including Gone, Hunger, Lies, Plague, Fear, and Light, shows how quickly things can turn into chaos. As food runs out and fear spreads, friendships are tested and power struggles begin. Each book explores different challenges, from survival to emotional conflicts, making the story intense and realistic. What makes this series special is how it makes readers think; what would you do in such a situation?
